Session Objectives:

1. Describe PTSD and its prevalence in nurses
2. Identify factors influencing PTSD development in nurses
3. Examine ways to reduce the harmful impact of PTSD in nurses

Factors influencing PTSD

The Workplace Matters
Interpersonal Strengths
It Hurts to Care

Relationships Matter

Symptoms of PTSD are divided into four categories:

1. Intrusive thoughts or re-experiencing (reliving the traumatic event)
2. Avoiding situations that are reminders of the event
3. Negative changes in thoughts and feelings
4. Hyperarousal and reactivity symptoms (overreacting to situations)

PTSD is affecting nurses worldwide. Prevalence rates vary.

Reducing the effect of PTSD:

1. Organizational
   - Security/ resources
2. Interpersonal
   - Supportive peer/ leadership relationships
3. Intrapersonal
   - Strengths
   - Promote Resiliency

Author Contact Information:
Michelle Schuster MSN RN CPHON
michelle.schuster@childrens.harvard.edu